INTRODUCTION

In the late summer of 2014, Kahnawà:ke and Quebec signed a Labor Agreement establishing a framework to develop and implement a Kahnawà:ke Labor Regime which will define the rules governing construction, compensation for industrial accidents and occupational diseases, and occupational health and safety on the Territory. Also, in 2014, the Quebec National Assembly passed Bill 21, An Act respecting the implementation of agreements on Labor matters between the Government of Quebec and the Mohawk Council of Kahnawà:ke. As a result, Kahnawà:ke and Québec (and its labor institutions) also agreed to work together to create a Kahnawà:ke Labor Office (KLO) to act as the authority in the development and the implementation of the Kahnawà:ke Regime

This document has been developed by the KLO to ensure that Kahnawà:ke workers receive a fair wage and benefits package based on their competency, industry standards and community norms. It applies to those Kahnawà:ke Workers choosing to not be compensated by the Quebec Construction Regime. In addition, to the wage schedules, the document contains definitions for the construction works, trades and occupations performed within the territory of Kahnawà:ke.

Recognition of competency certification from jurisdictions other than the Mohawk Territory of Kahnawà:ke and its jurisdictions are as follows:

Competency certificates issued by the Province of Quebec are the primary certification recognized by the Mohawk Territory of Kahnawà:ke, followed by all other Canadian Provinces and Territories. Other jurisdictional certification recognized includes all-of the United States of America.

NOTE: Where employees working in the Mohawk Territory of Kahnawà:ke do not possess the required skills in specialized areas of the trade, competency requirements in Quebec shall be recognized as defined for that specialization.

TRADES AND OCCUPATIONS:

There are two broad job categories in the construction industry: trades and occupations. Unlike occupations, trades require an apprenticeship process defined by regulation. Persons following the apprenticeship program have apprentice status. Those who complete their apprenticeship and pass a provincial qualification exam become journeymen.

Trades

There are approximately 26 regulated trades in the construction industry. Four of them have specialties. Each trade has a fact sheet that provides more information than what is presented in this general document, including a description of the trade, the training and apprenticeship program.

Occupations

The occupations are support activities to the construction industry trades. There are about forty occupations, almost all of which are defined by collective agreements.

Apprenticeship

Apprenticeship is mandatory for each trade and covers all aspects of the trade. You can apprentice to only one trade at a time. Apprenticeship is remunerated, and its duration varies depending on the trade. One apprenticeship period is equal to 2000 hours. Some trades demand up to five apprenticeship periods. The salary rises as the apprentice progresses from one apprenticeship period to the next. When the apprenticeship is completed, it is recommended that you register for the provincial qualification or Red Seal examination.

Apprentices are credited with apprenticeship hours based on:

- relevant vocational training courses completed successfully in a recognized educational institution;
- hours of work in a trade in recorded by a registered employer;
- relevant work experience gained outside Québec, with proof of paid hours of work.

Apprenticeship

Apprenticeship in a trade in the construction industry is calculated in terms of hours of vocational training and upgrading as well as hours of work spent practicing the trade. The apprenticeship is divided into apprenticeship periods of 2,000 hours each. The number of periods varies by trade.

People who become apprentices can also have their training and work experience recognized in order to be properly classified in their apprenticeship.

BLASTER – DRILLER¹:

National Occupation Classification # 7372 (Drillers and blasters – surface mining, quarrying and construction).

Drillers in this unit group operate mobile drilling machines to bore blast holes in open-pit mines and quarries and to bore holes for blasting and for building foundations at construction sites. Blasters in this unit group fill blast holes with explosives and detonate explosives to dislodge coal, ore and rock or to demolish structures. They are employed by mining, quarrying and construction companies and by drilling and blasting contractors.

Since 1994, the Commission des normes, de l'équité, de la santé et de la sécurité du travail (CNESST) has delegated management of blaster certification to the Commission de la construction du Québec (CCQ). To perform blasting or any other work requiring the use of explosives on a construction site, an individual must hold a blaster certificate.

If the construction site falls under the Act Respecting Labor Relations, Vocational Training and Workforce Management in the Construction Industry (Act R-20), the blaster must also hold an occupation competency certificate.

Obtaining the first blaster certificate:

The following conditions must be met in order to obtain a first blaster certificate:

- Be at least 18 years of age
- Hold a valid General Explosives Permit issued by the Sûreté du Québec
- Pass the blaster examination

To register for the examination, candidates must:

- Have completed the Ministère de l'Éducation et de l'Enseignement supérieur (MEES) vocational studies program in drilling and blasting within the past 24 months OR have worked as an assistant blaster for at least 150 hours within the past 24 months (written proof required)
- Send the blaster certificate application form properly filled out, along with the documents required, to one of the Commission de la Construction du Québec (CCQ) regional offices.

Blaster Certification Examination:

The aim of the blaster examination is to verify your knowledge and experience related to blasting or any other work necessitating the use of explosives.

The examination consists of multiple-choice questions and may be taken in either English or French. The examination questions use both the imperial and international systems of measurement.

The examination takes 3 hours (180 minutes). It consists of 51 questions, and each question counts as 1 mark.

The required passing grade is 80%. The materials supplied for your use during the examination are a calculator, a pencil, and an eraser. No other material or reference document is allowed during the examination.

To clearly establish your identity, two official pieces of identification will be required when you present yourself at the examination, one with a photograph. The following pieces are accepted: driver's license, health insurance card, passport, etc.

The results are sent within two weeks following the examination session. If you pass, the CCQ will issue your blaster's certificate for the Commission des normes, de l'équité, de la santé et de la sécurité du travail (CNESST). Should you fail, you will be advised in writing of the conditions for retaking the examination and when you can register to do so.

If you fail the exam on your first attempt, you must wait one month before taking it a second time. If you fail on your second attempt, you will have to wait three months before trying again.

Finally, if you still haven't passed the exam after three attempts, if you are not a graduate of the vocational studies program Forage-dynamitage (900 hours), you will have to earn this diploma before taking the exam again. If you have already graduated from the study program, you will have to take a training course of at least 30 hours to prepare you for the exam before taking it a fourth time. The content of this training course must have been previously authorized by the CCQ and the CNESST.

To renew the blaster certificate, send the renewal form duly filled out, along with the documents required, to one of the Commission de la Construction du Québec (CCQ) regional offices.

It is important to apply for renewal of the certificate before its expiry date, or else you will have to take the examination for the blaster examination again.

Since November 30, 2010, when you renew the blaster certificate, the expiry date of the new certificate will be harmonized with that of the General Explosives Permit (GEP) issued by the Sureté du Québec. Applications for renewal of the General Explosives Permit must still be made to the Sureté du Québec. However, it is no longer necessary to present your GEP to the CCQ with your application for renewal of your blaster certificate. The CCQ verifies directly with the SQ whether the applicant has a valid GEP.
